- Trust is not a 'Person' as defined in Sec. 2(u) of FEMA, 1999
- Trust is not a 'Person' as defined in Sec. 2(31) of Income – Tax Act, 1961
- An overseas Trust may be formed or registered in accordance with laws of host country
- However, can it be regarded as eligible 'Foreign Entity' for overseas direct investment?

- An Indian Trust, however, is permitted to make overseas direct investment under approval route

Other types of Entities – Whether Eligible Entities or not for ODI

 - Recurring expenses: - 10 per cent of such average annual sales/ income or turnover during the last financial year where the remittances are done to meet recurring expenses of the branch or office or representative.

Practical Issues - ODI Policy

Other key issues arising under ODI & LRS:

- What is the status of investments in unlisted pvt. companies done under LRS prior to Aug. 2013?
 - Is Form APR required to be filed?
 - But UIN was not required earlier under LRS. So will RBI issue UIN for such old cases?
 - Or do the above investments need to be liquidated / exited?
 - It is learnt that these matters of investment in the overseas companies are subject matter of Compounding

- What if investment in above company through LRS was in nature of portfolio investment?
 - If yes, will it be outside the purview of FEMA Ntf. 120 i.e. no requirement of filing of APR / disinvestment report / valuation, etc. ?

- What if investment in above company was made when person was resident outside India (or it was inherited from a person resident outside India) and he is now contemplating further investment in same company under LRS?
 - In such cases, will conditions of FEMA Ntf. 120 apply pro-rata to the two methods of investment or will the entire investment be subjected to the rigors such as filing of APR / valuation / divestment report, etc.?

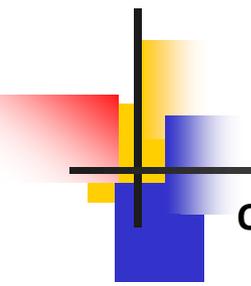

Practical Issues - ODI Policy (con't)

Overseas Direct Investment under LRS:

- Key Issues (con't):

- Portfolio Investment is not defined in FEMA or in any of its regulations. The Advance Law Lexicon defines the term 'portfolio investment' as "the purchase of foreign financial asset with the purpose of deriving returns from the security without intervening in the management of the foreign operations". Hence, issue arises as to whether investment in unlisted securities can be considered as portfolio investment if it does not involve management participation or control because, as per common parlance, only listed investments are generally considered as portfolio investments.

Practical Issues - ODI Policy (con't)

Overseas Direct Investment for purpose of attracting FDI:

- Often, when structuring foreign direct investment into India, the Indian co-promoters realize that their foreign co-promoters desire to route the FDI through a holding company in a suitable international jurisdiction due to various reasons such as efficient shareholder control, brand image, licensing of Intellectual Property, etc. As a result, the Indian co-promoters are required to contribute to the equity of the foreign holding company by way of ODI which then, in turn, makes FDI into India. Although, there is no specific bar in the FEMA regulations against such a structure, regulators have raised concerns over re-routing of funds to India / round-tripping.
- However, FEMA regulations have recognized that overseas direct investments may be made in JV / WOS in order to attract FDI into India as is evidenced from the old Form APR (point J.(v)) as well as the current one (point V(iv)).
- Key Issues:
 - While the concerns of the regulators can be appreciated, if the foreign holding company is utilizing its profit reserves to make FDI, would it still amount to re-routing / round-tripping?
 - What if amount is borrowed by the foreign holding company and invested in India?

Practical Issues - ODI Policy (con't)

- Investment by Navratna Oil Companies – Is it in nature of Branch operations?
- Gift of foreign securities by Resident to Resident – Whether it is a Current account transaction?

Practical Issues – Overseas Branch / Office by Residents

Provisions under FEMA relating to overseas Branch / office by Residents:

- If a person resident in India desires to enter into overseas market, he can enter either (i) by establishing the branch or liaison office outside India or (ii) by forming an independent company outside India in the nature of wholly owned subsidiary (WOS) or a joint venture (JV).
- Investment in JV / WOS abroad is governed by FEMA Ntf. 120 but there are no specific regulations governing the opening of branch office/representative office by Indian residents outside India except under FEMA Ntf. 10(R) which gives general permission to open of bank account in name of overseas branch / office / representative posted abroad for conducting normal business activities of the Indian entity and specifies limits for remittance to such bank accounts. As stipulated in Regn. 5(B)(c) of FEMA Ntf. 10(R), the overseas branch/ office/ representative shall not enter in any contract or agreement in contravention of the FEMA Act, Rules or Regulations.
- Section 2(v) of the Foreign Exchange management Act,1999 defines “person resident in India”. As per sub-clause (iv), “an office, branch or agency outside India owned or controlled by a person resident in India” is said to be resident in India. Therefore for the purpose of FEMA, a branch office outside India of a company established in India is said to be person resident in India.
- Key Issues:
 - Whether overseas branch can undertake all transactions, including borrowings that a foreign JV / WOS can do?
 - Or whether overseas branch can only undertake such transactions as an Indian company can do?

ODI under LRS: Case Study - I

A. ODI- Investment by Individual under Liberalised Remittance Scheme

- Mr. A desires to make investment in shares of a foreign company. He seeks guidance on the relevant provisions and routes available to him under FEMA.

- Leads:
 - Liberalised Remittance Scheme (LRS) under A.P.(Dir) Circular No. 64 dt. 04.02.2004 as amended
 - Overseas Direct Investment under Regn. 20A read with Schedule V of FEMA Ntf. 120
 - Discuss the possible alternatives through Indian company compared with LRS

ODI under LRS: Case Study - I (con't)

Overview of legal framework:

- Under LRS, resident individuals can freely remit up to USD 2,50,000 per Financial Year (April-March) for any permitted current or capital account transaction or a combination of both
- Permissible capital account transactions by an individual under LRS includes:
 - making investments abroad - acquisition and holding shares of both listed and unlisted overseas company or debt instruments; acquisition of ESOPs; investment in units of Mutual Funds, Venture Capital Funds, unrated debt securities, promissory notes;
 - setting up Wholly Owned Subsidiaries and Joint Ventures (with effect from August 05, 2013) outside India for bonafide business subject to the terms & conditions stipulated in Notification No FEMA.263/RB-2013 dated March 5, 2013 which amended Notification No FEMA 120 relating to Overseas Direct Investments
- Under FEMA 120, "Direct investment outside India" means investment by way of contribution to the capital or subscription to the Memorandum of Association of a foreign entity or by way of purchase of existing shares of a foreign entity either by market purchase or private placement or through stock exchange, but does not include portfolio investment (emphasis applied)

ODI under LRS: Case Study - I (con't)

Discussions:

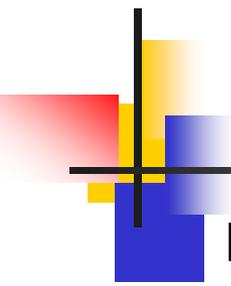

- From the definition of Direct investment outside India, it is evident that investment in the nature of portfolio investment does not fall under the same and hence is outside the purview of provisions specified in Ntf. FEMA 120
- The term 'portfolio investments' is not defined in FEMA or in any of its regulations. The Advance Law Lexicon defines the term 'portfolio investment' as "the purchase of foreign financial asset with the purpose of deriving returns from the security without intervening in the management of the foreign operations".
- Hence, in common parlance, portfolio investments may be considered as "hands-off" investments which are made only with the intention to earn returns and do not include control/ participation in decision making of an offshore entity by the resident individual.
- Therefore, the route available to Mr. A depends on whether his investment in foreign company is for undertaking business with participation / control in decision making by him or is "hands-off" i.e. in nature of portfolio investment.
- Issue arises as to whether investment in unlisted securities can be considered as portfolio investment if it does not involve management participation or control because, as per common parlance, only listed investments are generally considered as portfolio investments

Discussions:

- The maximum amount of investment in foreign shares by resident individual is limited to the LRS limit of US$ 250,000 whether through LRS or through ODI route

- If Mr. A's case falls under ODI route, it is subject to conditions specified in Schedule V of FEMA Ntf. 120. The following conditions are more restrictive in case of ODI by individual compared to ODI by a company / registered partnership firm / LLP:
 - The JV or WOS, to be acquired / set up by a resident individual under Schedule V, shall be an operating entity only and no step down subsidiary is allowed to be acquired or set up by the JV or WOS
 - The financial commitment by a resident individual to / on behalf of the JV or WOS, other than the overseas direct investments as defined under Regulation 2(e) read with Regulation 20A of this Notification, is prohibited. As per said definition, investment is permissible only by way of contribution to the capital or subscription to the Memorandum of Association of a foreign entity or by way of purchase of existing shares of a foreign entity; hence it may not be possible for Mr. A to grant loan to or issue guarantee on behalf of his JV / WOS abroad
 - In case an individual invests in JV / WOS along with Indian company as part of Indian Party, issue arises whether the above mentioned restrictive provisions relating to step down subsidiaries, loans & guarantees would apply to such ODI.

ODI under LRS: Case Study - II

Kindly examine the following issues:

- Is it possible to make payment for incorporation of foreign company to service provider before the incorporation?
- Is purchase of minimum shares from a company agent treated a purchase of shares of an existing company?

Case study – III

- Indian company is seeking immediate solution to finalise the structuring of the co-production finance as it did not have time to approach RBI for prior approval if any, kindly advise Indian company.

Case study – III (con't)

- Overview of legal framework
- Section 6(3)(a) of Foreign Exchange Management Act deals with "Transfer or issue of any foreign security by a person resident in India". Regulation relating to this transaction is notified by RBI as Notification No. 120 dt 7.7.2004.
- As per regulation 6 of FEMA Notification no. 120 an Indian party may make direct investment in a Joint Venture or Wholly Owned Subsidiary outside India. According to regulation 2(k) "Indian party" means a company incorporated in India or a body created under an Act of Parliament or a partnership firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 or a Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) as defined under clause (ma) of Regulation 2 of this Notification making investment in a Joint Venture or Wholly Owned Subsidiary abroad, and includes any other entity in India as may be notified by the Reserve Bank.
- Further as per regulation 6(2) The total financial commitment of the Indian Party in Joint Ventures / Wholly Owned Subsidiaries shall not exceed 400%, or as amended by the Reserve Bank from time to time, of the net worth of the Indian Party as on the date of the last audited balance sheet and as per regulation 2(o) Net worth' means paid up capital and free reserves.
- Other conditions of regulation of 6(2)

Case study – III (con't)

- Regulation 6(6) deals with investment outside India in existing company that is required to be valued by a Category I Merchant Banker Registered with Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), or an Investment Banker/Merchant Banker outside India registered with the appropriate regulatory authority in the host country, where investment is more than USD 5 (Five) million; and
- (ii) in all other cases, by a Chartered Accountant or a Certified Public Accountant.

Case study – III (con't)

Conclusion

Case(a)

- Thus, Indian party can invest upto 400% of net worth (i.e. capital and reserve) in JV or WOS outside India without prior approval of RBI.
- In the given case Indian Party is Indian company and net worth of the company is GBP 1,00,000 and investment to be made is also GBP 5,00,000 (which is 500% of its net worth). Thus it needs to take prior approval of RBI subject to condition specified in the regulation i.e.
 - (i) The direct investment is made in an overseas JV or WOS engaged in a bonafide business activity.
 - (ii) The Indian Party is not on the Reserve Bank's Exporters caution list /list of defaulters to the banking system circulated by the Reserve Bank or under investigation by any investigation /enforcement agency or regulatory body.
 - (iii) The Indian party has submitted its Annual Performance Report in respect of all its overseas investments in the format given in Part II of the Form ODI
 - (iv) The Indian Party routes all transactions relating to the investment in a Joint Venture/Wholly Owned Subsidiary through only one branch of an authorised dealer to be designated by it.

B. Further, valuation by CA of Foreign company will be required since it is an existing company, which may take "considerable time".

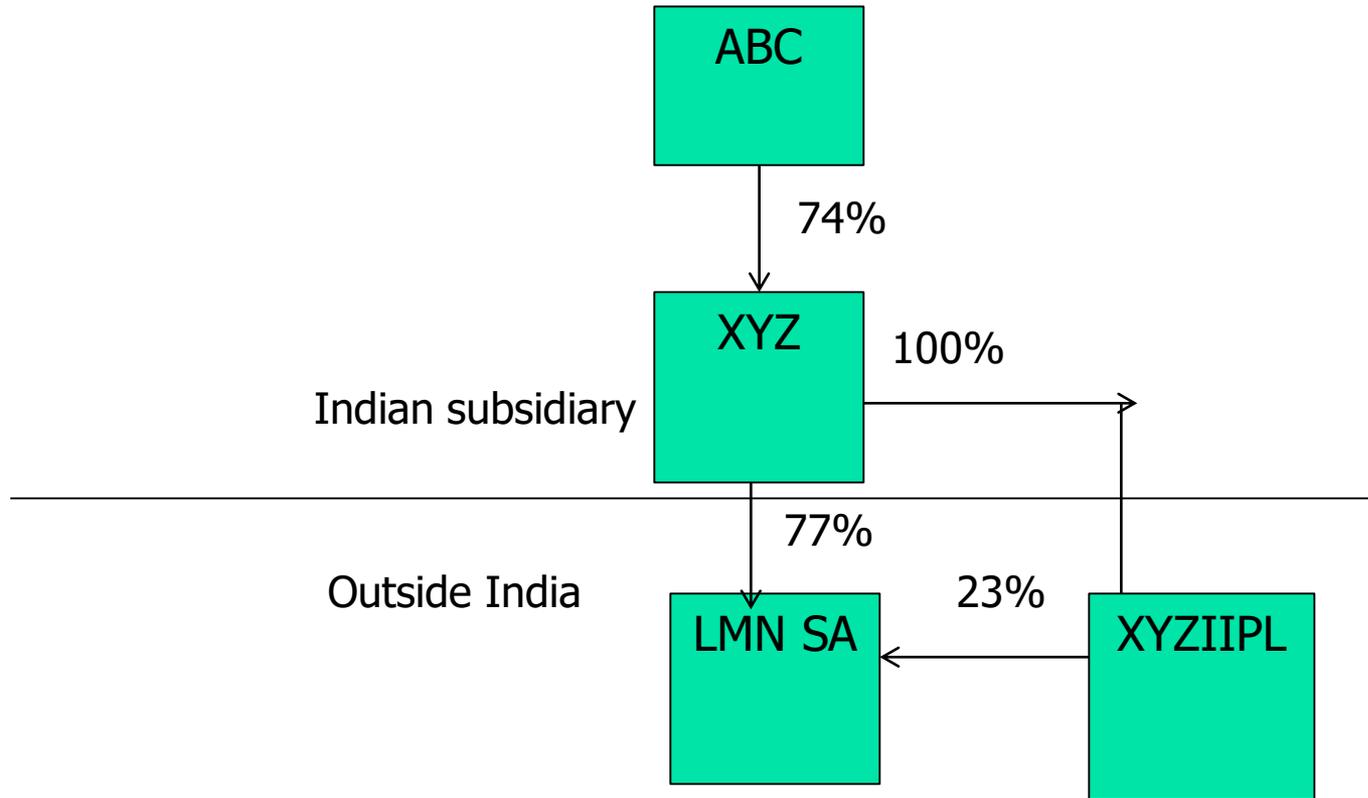

Case study - IV

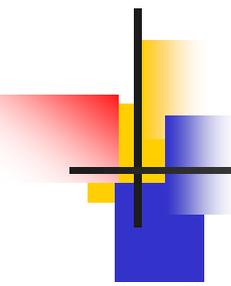

Guarantee By PRII in favour Of Foreign Step Down Subsidiary

Background

- XYZ Limited (XYZ) is an Indian subsidiary of ABC Ltd. (ABC). ABC holds 74% stake in XYZ.
- LMN SA, Spain ('LMN') is a subsidiary of XYZ, where XYZ holds 77%. The balance 23% is held by XYZ International PTE Ltd (XYZIIPL), Singapore which is a wholly owned subsidiary of XYZ.
- AAA Bank India, had sanctioned a Euro 10 mn Non fund based (SBLC) facility at the request of XYZ in favour of AAA Bank Spain, who in turn had provided a Working capital facility of Euro 10 mn to LMN SA. The said facility was secured by way of a corporate guarantee by ABC.

- The said facility is to be secured by way of a letter of Comfort from XYZ & a Corporate guarantee by ABC

Case study – IV (con't)

Question for consideration

Based on discussions with the ABC, the clarification is sought

- A. Whether ABC can extend corporate guarantee for the arrangement?
 - If No, Can you suggest a minimal requirement to do so?
- B. Whether LMN is a first level step down subsidiary or a second level step down subsidiary for Indian party that intends to issue a corporate guarantee to AAA Bank, India for the purpose of providing the facility for Euro 10mn to LMN?

- Leads: Notf. 8 on Guarantee
 - Notf. 120 on overseas investment

- Regulation 5(b) of FEMA 8 permits a company in India which is promoter of a JV / WOS outside India to give a guarantee to or on behalf of the JV / WOS in connection with its business subject to the terms and conditions stipulated in Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of any Foreign Security) Regulations, 2000.

 - 50% of the amount of performance guarantee issued by the Indian party provided that the outflow on account of invocation of performance guarantee results in the breach of the limit of the financial commitment in force, prior permission of the Reserve Bank is to be obtained before executing remittance beyond the limit prescribed for the financial commitment.

- Net worth has been defined in Regulation 2(o) of the said Notification as paid-up capital and free reserves.
- Indian Party has been defined in Regulation 2(k) as under:
- "Indian party" means a company incorporated in India or a body created under an Act of Parliament or a partnership firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 or a Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) as defined under clause (ma) of Regulation 2 of this Notification making investment in a Joint Venture or Wholly Owned Subsidiary abroad, and includes any other entity in India as may be notified by the Reserve Bank;
- Provided that when more than one such company, body or entity make an investment in the foreign entity, all such companies or bodies or entities shall together constitute the "Indian party".

- Issue of Guarantee by Indian Party to step down subsidiary of JV / WOS:
- As provided in regulation 6(4) of FEMA Notf. 120, (i) An Indian Party may extend a loan or a guarantee to or on behalf of the Joint Venture / Wholly Owned Subsidiary abroad, within the permissible financial commitment, provided that the Indian Party has made investment by way of contribution to the equity capital of the Joint Venture.
- Notwithstanding the above regulation, the following shall also be permitted.
- (ii) An Indian Party may extend corporate guarantee on behalf of its first generation step down operating company or SPV within the prevailing limit for overseas direct investment.
- Explanation: Issue of corporate guarantee on behalf of second level or subsequent level step down operating subsidiaries will be considered under the Approval Route, provided the Indian Party indirectly holds 51 per cent or more stake in the overseas subsidiary for which such guarantee is intended to be issued."

Case study – IV (con't)

- Applicability to the case study:
- As provided in Regulation 2(k) of FEMA 120, when more than one Indian company, body or entity make an investment in the foreign entity, all such companies or bodies or entities shall together constitute the "Indian Party". Accordingly, when more than one Indian company has participated in the investment in a foreign entity, all such Indian companies jointly constitute "Indian party". If 100% ownership of the foreign entity is held by such multiple Indian companies comprising the "Indian Party", the foreign entity will be in the nature of a wholly-owned subsidiary of the "Indian Party" and not a joint venture between the companies comprised in the "Indian Party". Thus FEMA does not seek to distinguish between the various entities located within India or the group structure in India but is concerned with the structure of the entities set up outside India. Under FEMA, the concept of JV / WOS and step down entities refers only to foreign entities and not to a wholly owned subsidiary in India which is part of the Indian Party.
- e.g. If Co. A is the holding company of Co. B in India and they both invest in a foreign entity Co. C, then, keeping in view the definition of "Indian Party" both Co. A and Co. B shall be the "Indian Party" and Co. C shall be its wholly-owned subsidiary abroad ('WOS'). Since Co. C is an WOS, it cannot be considered as first level step down subsidiary under FEMA even though it is a step down subsidiary for Co. A as per company law.

Case study – IV (con't)

In the instant case, XYZ, the Indian Party, is the holding company of LMN, which it has promoted along with XYZIPL. As LMN has direct investment from XYZ, it is a JV / WOS of the Indian Party and not a first level step down subsidiary. In case LMN had received entire investment from XYZIPL, it would have been construed as a first level step down subsidiary of XYZ. However, given the shareholding pattern of LMN, there is no issue whatsoever that it is a JV / WOS of Indian Party and not a first level or second level step down subsidiary.

- As regards extending corporate guarantee on behalf of LMN, it would be permissible under Regn. 6(2)(i)(c) of FEMA 120 within the financial commitment of 400% of the net worth of the Indian Party. As this is a direct case of Indian Party extending guarantee on behalf of its JV / WOS, it does not fall under provisions regulation 6(4)(ii) of FEMA notf. 120 that is applicable to first level and second level step down subsidiaries. Thus the Indian Party can extend the said guarantee under Regn. 6(2)(i)(c) without attracting the provisions relating to first or second level step down subsidiaries.

Case study – IV (con't)

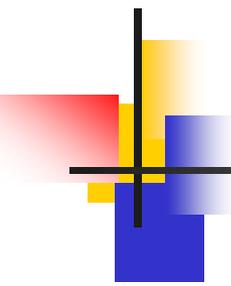

Applicability to case study:

- Q. (a) Whether guarantee can be issued by ABC Ltd.
- Ans. (a) Since ABC is an India party, guarantee can be extended by it. However in view of the language used in the Notf. about who can provide loan or guarantee, it is advisable to make a small investment by ABC along with XYZ in to LMN ,in order to avoid any issue of contravention in future

Case study – IV (con't)

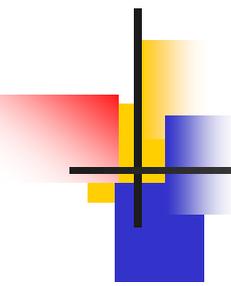

Applicability to case study:

- Q. (b) Whether LMN is a first level step down subsidiary or a second level step down subsidiary for Indian party that intends to issue a corporate guarantee to AAA Bank, India for the purpose of providing the facility for Euro 10mn to LMN?
- A. (b) As discussed in detail , LMN has received direct investment from the Indian Party, it shall be regarded as an JV / WOS of such Indian Party and not a step down subsidiary and guarantee can be extended under Regn. 6(2)(i)(c) of FEMA 120 within the limit of 400% of net worth without attracting the provisions & restrictions relating to step down subsidiaries. Further, even If LMN was an 100% subsidiary of XYZIPL, only in that case would it would be considered as 1st level step down subsidiary of the Indian Party and guarantee could be extended by such Indian Party under the automatic route as provided under regulation 6(4)(ii)of Notf. 120. Thus in no case is LMN a second level subsidiary which would have necessitated RBI approval for guarantee by Indian Party.
